

ARREST REPORT

Three ESP[®] Devices Track Violent Suspects

December 17, 2007 – Colorado Springs, CO

For a credit union in Colorado Springs, the week begins with a violent take-over style bank robbery. Three suspects enter the bank displaying weapons and grab as much cash as they can.

The ESP system alerts police communications within seconds to the robbery and police quickly locate the fleeing vehicle. Although the suspects switch cars and change clothes, police are able to continue their pursuit based on the location information provided by ESP.

The robbers abandon the second getaway vehicle and flee on foot to an apartment complex where three of the suspects are arrested.

The fourth suspect manages to jump through a window and flees by car. This suspect continues to carry an ESP device with him and police are able to track and apprehend him shortly thereafter.

The credit union and police are pleased with the arrest and recovery of $16,000.

Lock On and Lock Them Up!

ESP continues to help law enforcement take criminals off the streets. Apprehension has occurred in 71% of bank robberies where ESP devices were used to track the robber.
